Notes:

Attending students are students who attend at least 75% of the course (15 out of 20 classes).

Exam for attending students: this (written) exam consists of four open questions covering all topics (Part I + Part II) included in the Syllabus. Particularly, two open questions will focus on Part I and two on Part II of the Syllabus. Students will have 2.5 hours to complete the exam.

Mandatory readings are materials students MUST study for the exam. (All these readings are available in the University of Macerata library.) Readings marked with ‘(*)’ will be provided by the professor on the course’s website (<https://docenti.unimc.it/andrea.prontera/courses/2022/26369>)

Additional, suggested readings are materials which students are encouraged to study but that are not mandatory for taking the exam. Not all these readings are available in the University of Macerata library; if you have problems finding them, please send me an email. The suggested readings are especially recommended for students who want to do their final master’s thesis in ‘EU Institutions and Policies’.

Slides: Please note that the slides (PowerPoint presentations) used by the professor during the course are only a tool to specifically help students follow the lessons in the classroom. These slides won’t be uploaded on the course’s website, nor will the professor send you these materials. (So, please don’t send me emails asking for the slides.) Students are encouraged to take notes during the classes. In other words, to pass the exam, you must pay attention during the classes AND study ALL the mandatory readings.

Readings and exam for NON-attending students: Information about materials, mandatory readings and the exam for non-attending students is available at: <https://docenti.unimc.it/andrea.prontera/courses/2022/26369>

The (written) exam for NON-attending students consists of four open questions on ALL the mandatory readings (see above). Students will have 2.5 hours to complete the exam.
