PERSONAL STATEMENT

Maria Laura Pierucci graduated in 2003 in Foreign Languages and Literatures at the University of Macerata, where in 2008 she received her PhD in Linguistic History of Eurasia.

Since 2012, she has been teaching General and Applied Linguistics, Phonetics and Phonology of Italian language, Dialectology of Italian language, Languages for Special Purposes and Terminology in undergraduated courses at the Department of Humanities of the University of Macerata.

She served as research fellow at the University of Macerata (a.y. 2013-2014, 2020-2021) and at the University of Udine (a.y. 2019-2020) as a team member of different National Research Projects (PRIN) supported by the Ministry of University and Research.

Currently, She is serving as Research Fellow at the University of Macerata on the project "Digital short writings for the simplification of special languages" (SSD: L-LIN/01, Historic and General Linguistics - PNRR ECS00000041 "Innovation, digitalisation and sustainability for the diffused economy in Central Italy"). The focus was on specialized metalanguages and terminologies, typologies of interlinguistic contact, media linguistics.

Over the years, She has been devoting herself to deepen the study of the History of linguistic thought.

Working as editor, author and co-author on different types of peer-reviewed publications, both in Italian and in English, she improved her editing skills.
