1. REGULAR FORMS

Add -ish -ese or -an to the list on the right to form each nationality correctly.

- 4) with Malta, Portugal, China, Japan, Burma and Vietnam, the nationality ends in -ese.

2) IRREGULAR FORMS:

Some nationalities are completely irregular; you just have to memorise them. For example, the adjective that usually describes things or people from Luxembourg is 'Luxembourg'. There are no rules to help you guess the nationalities shown in the crossword below

APPENDIX 2: MODAL VERBS

Introduction: Modal verbs can be divided into two basic groups:

- i) Central Modals: can, could, will, would, shall, should, may, might, must, ought to.
- ii) Semi-Auxiliaries: have to, have got to, tend to, need to, to be able to, to be allowed to, to be supposed to.

Central Modals behave as follows:

- + I can / you can / he can / she can / it can... etc.
- I can't / you can't / he can't / she can't / it can't... etc.
- ? Can I ? / Can you ? / Can he ? / Can she ? / Can it ? ... etc.

Semi-Auxiliaries, by contrast, usually act like this:

- + I have to / You have to / He, she, it has to... etc.
- I don't have to / You don't have to / He, she, it doesn't have to... etc.
- ? Do I have to ? / Do you have to ? / Does he / she / it have to ? ... etc.

Or like this:

- + I am allowed to / You are allowed to / He, she, it is allowed to... etc.
- I am not allowed to / You are not allowed to / He, she, it is not allowed to... etc.
- ? Am I allowed to ? / Are you allowed to ? / Is he, she, it allowed to ? etc.

Modal verbs are always followed by the infinitive without 'to'.

Central modal verbs do not have infinitives, past forms, present or past participles or an -s ending in the third person singular. Semi-auxiliaries are sometimes used to supply their past or future forms, as here:

PAST	PRESENT	FUTURE
Could	Can	Will be able to
Had to	Must	Will have to
Might	May
Should		Shall
Would		Will

All modal verbs have at least two meanings. These can be grouped into categories such as Ability, Permission, Obligation, Possibility, Probability etc.

1) Ability: can, could, be able to.

i) We use Can, Could and Be Able To to talk about the ability to do something, e.g.

"Now I can play the piano. I couldn't when I was nine years old."

"When I was nine years old, I couldn't drive. Now I can."

"When I leave university, I will be able to..."

ii) We also use Can and Could with verbs of perception, e.g. "I can hear someone coming", "I can't see a thing", "They could smell gas", "She couldn't taste any sugar."

iii) The difference between 'I could' and 'I was able to' is that 'I could' indicates that you had the ability to do something, e.g. 'I knew that, if necessary, I could swim to safety from the sinking ship', although you did not necessarily do it in reality. 'I was able to', by contrast, indicates that you succeeded in doing so, e.g. 'I was able to swim to safety.'

Now talk about your present, past and future abilities using modal verbs.

2) Permission: can, may, be allowed to

i) Can, May and Be Allowed To are used to talk about permission, e.g. "You aren't allowed to smoke in here", "We were allowed to take photographs", "The prisoner will be allowed to see his lawyer for about half an hour".

ii) Can and May are used for asking for and receiving permission: e.g. "Can I come in?", "May I sit down?"

Can is more direct, May is more formal, e.g. "May I use your phone?", "Can I borrow your pen?", "Yes, you may.", "No, you can't."

Now complete this sentence using modal verbs: When I go to my grandparents' house, I can / can't / am (not) allowed to..."

3) Obligation: must, should, ought to, needn't, have to, be supposed to

Must	—	it is necessary that you do something.
Mustn't	—	it is necessary that you do not do something.
Have to / Have got to	—	it is necessary that you do something.
Don't have to / Haven't got to	—	it is not necessary but you can if you want to.
Needn't	—	it is not necessary but you can if you want to.
Should	—	it is the correct thing to do.
Ought to	—	it is the correct thing to do.
To be supposed to	—	it is the expected thing.

Permission and Obligation: what can / can't / must / mustn't / needn't you do at the following ages ?

6 14 16 18 65

4) Possibility: can, could, may, might

Can indicates a 100% possibility in the present or the future	e.g. 'Yes, I can do that for you immediately.'
Could indicates a 50% possibility in the present or the future	e.g. 'She could go to Oxford or Cambridge.'
May indicates a 30% possibility in the present or the future	e.g. 'The weather is very cold. It may snow.'
Might indicates a 10% possibility in the present or the future	e.g. 'If we're lucky, it might be sunny all day.'

5) Probability: must, could, may, might, can't

It must be true 90% probability	e.g. Carla Bruni must be the most famous Italian woman in France.
It could be true 50% probability	e.g. Madonna could be the most famous woman in the USA.
It may be true 30% probability	e.g. There may be a general election next year.
It might be true 10% probability	e.g. NASA might send a man to Mars in 2030.
It can't be true 1% probability	e.g. No, Michael Jackson and Amy Winehouse can't still be alive.

Now read the sentences below:

- It will rain this weekend.
- There is a monster in Loch Ness.
- About 1,000,000,000 people around the world can speak English.
- Prince William will be the next king of England.
- Most English people dream about the Queen at least once in their lives.
- Most Italian people dream about their Prime Minister at least once in their lives.

None of the above can be proved 100% true or false. The speaker therefore has to estimate the probability of each statement. Now comment upon them using Must, Could, May, Might or Can't, e.g. "It must be true", "It can't be true", "It might be true".

be allowed to and have to Complete this article about learning to drive in Britain. Put in a positive or negative form of be allowed to or have to.

In Britain you ... drive a car when you're seventeen. You ... get a special two-year driving licence before you can start. When you're learning, someone with a full licence always ... be in the car with you because you ... take the car on the road alone. You ... go to a driving school — a friend can teach you. The person with you ... take money for the lesson unless he's got a teacher's licence.

Before you ... have a full licence, you ... take a driving test. You can take a test in your own car, but it ... be fit for the road. In the test you ... drive round for about half an hour and then answer a few questions. If you don't pass the test, you ... take it again a few weeks later if you want to. In 1970 a woman passed her fortieth test after 212 driving lessons! When you've passed your test, you ... take it again, and you ... go on driving as long as you like, provided you are fit. Britain's oldest driver was a Norfolk man who drove in 1974 at the age of 100.

Before 1904 everyone ... drive, even children. Then from 1904 motorists ... have a licence. But they ... take a test until 1935. In the early days of motoring, before 1878, cars ... go faster than four miles an hour, and someone ... walk in front of the car with a red flag.

must and mustn't

Do you know what these signs mean? Use You must ... and You mustn't ... with these words: turn round, go straight on, overtake, put some money in, smoke, stop, take photos, turn left, turn right, go faster than.
